

Accessibility on <http://shiny-sph.med.ic.ac.uk/> Shiny Server application

This application is intended to be used by Imperial College London Master in Public Health (MPH) students from the School of Public Health (SPH).

We want as many students as possible to be able to use this website. For example, that means you should be able to:

- Adapt the design to your own screen and zoom-in / zoom-out.
- Should be able to distinguish the letters from the background.

AbilityNet has advice on making your device easier to use if you have a disability.

How accessible the website is

The website has been developed with accessibility in mind. However, due to our main feature being statistical visualisation, we are limited in term of how accessible our website can be.

What we do about known issues

We work to achieve and maintain WCAG 2.1 AA standards, but it is not always possible for all our content to be accessible. Where content is not accessible, we will state a reason, warn users and offer alternatives.

Technical information about this website's accessibility

Imperial College London is committed to making its website accessible in accordance with the Public Sector Bodies (Websites and Mobile Applications) (No. 2) Accessibility Regulations 2018.

This website is partially compliant with the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines version 2.1 AA standard, due to the known issues listed below.

Non accessible content

Most pages are reasonably accessible; however we cannot guarantee that all statistical visualisations presented to the students are accessible.

Non compliance with the accessibility regulations

The website has some minor contrast issues on secondary headings, but these headings have an increased font-size to ease their readability.

Reporting accessibility issues

If you need information on this website in a different format like accessible PDF, large print, easy read, audio recording or braille or if you find any accessibility issues not listed on this page then please contact accessibility@imperial.ac.uk.

Enforcement procedure

The Equality and Human Rights Commission (EHRC) is responsible for enforcing the Public Sector Bodies (Websites and Mobile Applications) (No. 2) Accessibility Regulations 2018 (the 'accessibility regulations'). If you're not happy with how we respond to your complaint, contact the Equality Advisory and Support Service \(EASS\).
